Korea's Biggest Global Content Distribution Company

KBS Media was founded in 1991 and has been actively licensing international and domestic rights of content, distributing VOD content, importing and dubbing foreign programs and carrying on various other businesses related to content. KBS Media is and continues to be the company representing Korea's content industry.

The Heart of Korean Wave

KBS Media exported a drama series 'Winter Sonata' to Japanese public broadcaster NHK in 2003, first in Korean drama history, contributing to the expansion of Korean Wave in Asia. Since then, through global content markets, KBS media expanded its market to Europe, Middle East, Latin America and Africa, to become the leading force of Korean Wave.

Leap & Growth through Reinforcing New Media

KBS Media's merger with KBS Internet in July, 2011 has enabled the company to expand its distribution network to new media platforms such as PC, IPTV, Smart TV, and mobile devices. Consolidation of online and offline distribution is creating synergy and increasing profit to the company and enables KBS Media to be unrivaled in content distribution.
